Subject: CHC assessments

		Response from ICB
1	In Q1 of 2023-2024, in relation to NHS Continuing Healthcare assessments conducted in accordance with the Standing Rules s.21(2) and using the decision support tool:	The number of assessments completed using the decision support tool for Q1 2023-204 was 258.
2	Where at least one priority level was identified, how many assessments led to a recommendation of eligibility and how many did not?	The ICB does not hold this information separately and it would require individual review of each assessment completed which will total over the allocated time and resources to provide.
3	Where at least two severe levels (but no priority level) were identified, how many assessments led to a recommendation of eligibility and how many did not?	The ICB does not hold this information separately and it would require individual review of each assessment completed which will total over the allocated time and resources to provide.
4	Where one severe level (but no priority level) was identified, how many assessments led to a recommendation of eligibility and how many did not?	The ICB does not hold this information separately and it would require individual review of each assessment completed which will total over the allocated time and resources to provide.
5	Where a number of domains with high and/or moderate needs (phrasing taken from the DST) but no severe or priority level identified, how many assessments led to a recommendation of eligibility and how many did not?	The ICB does not hold this information separately and it would require individual review of each assessment completed which will total over the allocated time and resources to provide.
