

Share for Care is a way for health and care services to share information about you.

This will include:

- Your contact details - like name, address and phone number.
- Your health records - like test results and what medicines you take.

Sharing your information will help health and care services give you better support, that is right for you.

Contact the team that provides your care if you do not want your information to be shared.

To find out more about Share for Care go to:

www.blmkhealthandcarepartnership.org/sharedrecord

Easy
Read